Questions To Ask Yourself

Check if you know the answer.

- Do I know how much I need to save each year to help ensure I retire at my standards?
- Do I have a pension? If so, do I know how it works?
- Do I qualify for an employer retirement account and do I know if they provide a match?
- If so, am I contributing enough to be eligible for the full matching contribution, if available?
- Do I know the difference between a traditional IRA and a Roth IRA, and which one is best for me?
- Do I qualify to make a contribution to an IRA?
- Do I know how to invest my retirement account?
- Have I completed an investment-risk-tolerance questionnaire in the past 12 months and compared that to my current investment allocation?
- Is my current allocation proper for my personal situation?
- If something happens to me or my spouse, would the survivor have sufficient savings or insurance to meet retirement and other goals?
- Have I run projections on how long my money will last in retirement?
- Have I engaged in end-of-life planning?
- What are my retirement dreams—where will I live, what will I be doing?
- Are those dreams compatible with those of my partner?
